

Halloween

CANDY SLIDE

Supplies Needed:

- 5 or 6 foot PVC pipe, 3 or 4" diameter
- Hot glue gun
- mesh Halloween fabric tablecloth
- Halloween freaky fabric
- Large eyeballs
- 2 medium binder clips
- 2 small binder clips
- 2 spider picks

Instructions:

- Hot glue the mesh Halloween table cloth around the top of the PVC pipe. Then gently wrap the fabric around the tube, leaving a little bit of fabric to hang along the length of the pipe.
- Hot glue the mesh Halloween table cloth around the bottom of the PVC pipe. Next, hot glue the fabric along the length of the PVC pipe. I did mine in a wavy pattern about 5 inches at a time. There is no need for perfection here. Not only is that the bottom of the pipe but it there's no rhyme or reason. Plus, any hot glue that may be seen just looks like spider webs anyway. ;)
- Then, I added two medium binder clips to the pipe, and then attached two small binder clips to the ends of those. I kept one end flipped down to help it stand upwards.
- Hot glue the big eyeballs to each of the small binder clip ends. Push them together while the hot glue dries to ensure it sticks together. *Important!
- Next, take the Halloween fabric and drape it over the top of the PVC pipe. I simply tied the ends around the top and bottom of the pipe instead of gluing them and let the fabric drape.
- Finally, I pulled the wires out of the spiders and hot glued them to the pipe.
- Set up the Halloween candy slide outside.
